Death of a Salesman: DRAMA PERFORMANCE GROUP PROJECT

Name:	period	score
-------	--------	-------	--

Criteria	5	4	3	2
VOICE	Voice was loud and clear; words were easily understood	Student spoke clearly but it was difficult to understand some of the script; could've been louder.	Voice and language was not very clear; could've been much louder.	Could not understand what was being said due to unclear and low speech.
MEMORIZATION/ IMPROVISATION	Script was fully memorized and performed; student improvised in place of lines when needed.	Script was almost fully memorized-some improv. used to make up for missed lines.	Script was partially memorized; student did not attempt improvisation.	Script was not at all memorized; no improvisation used.
FACIAL EXPRESSION/ BODY LANGUAGE/ ACTING!	Great use of gestures, facial expression, body movement – the characters where truly embodied by the actors!	Contained some facial expression, gestures & body movement – good acting	Needed more facial expressions gestures & movement – poor acting	Contained little to no facial expression, gesture or movement – no actingjust reading
TIME	5:00	A little short or long	Short or long	Very short or too long
SCRIPT	Script was no less than 2 pages in length and includes "lines" for every group member. Relationship to the original play is VERY evident through parallels in theme, character traits, and events.	Script was 2 pages in length or less and includes "lines" for every group member. Relationship to the original play is somewhat evident through parallels in theme, character traits, and events.	Script was less than 2 pages in length and includes "lines" for some group members. Relationship to the original play is unclear. Only some vague parallels can be identified.	Script was less than 2 pages in length and includes "lines" for some group members. Relationship to the original play is unclear. Audience cannot identify relationship to original play.
Comments:

Comments:
	_

Adapted from the rubric of Kyla Carter, teacher at Fort Collins High School. Additions and modifications were made to the original text.